The end of our spring 2016 semester is approaching very quickly. As this semester comes to a close, our administrative team, faculty, and students are preparing for our 2017 to 2020 strategic initiatives planning process. Our nursing school has continued to grow and pursue our vision of achieving national recognition with many fiscal constraints. With the support of our students, faculty, alumni, community partners, and friends of the nursing school we have continued to strive and receive recognition for our success. Our NCLEX-RN and advanced practiced certification rates remain high. The School of Nursing graduate program has been recognized as School of the Year by the Louisiana State Nurses Association this spring semester along with four faculty receiving LSNA Nightingale Awards. Also, our undergraduate and graduate nursing students have provided numerous service projects to our community and two graduate students engaged in a national health policy summit in DC. Epsilon Nu achieved national recognition by Sigma Theta Tau with a Chapter Key Award. These are just some of the significant accomplishments of our faculty and students.

The School of Nursing has focused on meeting workforce and health care demands for the growing geriatric and mental health population. We have developed two new Nurse Practitioner concentrations - Adult-Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner and Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner. In addition, our nurse practitioner faculty are working on the development of a Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner concentration along with several other initiatives to meet the growing demand for specialized nurse practitioner practice. Other areas of program expansion include the initiation of the Master of Science in Nursing Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL) program in Louisiana that will be led by Dr. Paula Kensler.

This May, we will graduate our first BSN to Doctor of Nursing Practice Nurse Anesthesia class. Our faculty and staff are very proud of our students’ accomplishments and contribution to nursing practice through their scholarly inquiry projects. Our first BSN honors student graduates of the MUSES program (Mentoring Undergraduate Students for Excellence in Scholarship) will receive recognition this May during the Awards Ceremony. Stay tuned, connected, and engaged with our nursing school so that as a team of faculty, staff, students, alumni and community partners we can continue to impact health care in Louisiana and transform our nursing workforce. Have a safe and relaxing summer!
Hoda Kotb and LSU Health Nursing Share Inspirational Journeys

by Leslie Capo, Director of Information Services for LSU Health Sciences Center New Orleans

The LSU Health New Orleans School of Nursing hosted Today Show co-anchor and beloved former New Orleans television news anchor Hoda Kotb on Sunday, January 17, 2016. WHERE WE BELONG: Journeys That Show Us The Way, the latest book by Kotb, who is also a New York Times best-selling author, has just hit the shelves. It is a collection of stories about individuals who realized their paths in life were either veering off in a completely new direction or getting too far off course from where they knew they belonged. By following their passions, heeding their gut feelings and listening to their hearts, these people learned how fulfilling life could truly be – just like the LSU Health New Orleans CARE nursing students.

Kotb discussed her book, sharing the stories behind the stories at the event, sponsored by the LSU Health New Orleans Foundation. She also told the audience of nursing professionals, community partners and leaders, along with Health Sciences Center faculty, staff and students, about her own personal journey.

On March 6th, 2016, the LSU Nursing Alumni Association in conjunction with the Pulmonary Hypertension Association sponsored the “2nd Annual Mudbug March to Stomp Out Pulmonary Hypertension” at the Peristyle in beautiful City Park. The day began with the Disco Amigos warming up the participants to disco hits from the 70’s and then participants completed a one mile fun walk. A silent auction was also held. The day was very successful as we were able to raise awareness for pulmonary hypertension and money to expand medical research in hopes of finding a cure.
School of Nursing faculty members, Dr. Deborah St. Germain and Dr. Katherine Carter, have been appointed to the Greater New Orleans Human Trafficking Task Force’s Training and Evaluation Committee. The mission of the Greater New Orleans Human Trafficking Task Force is to combat human trafficking through collaboration with law enforcement and social service providers, use a victim-centered approach in investigating and prosecuting human trafficking crimes, and provide comprehensive, high-quality social services to all victims of human trafficking.

The Training and Evaluation Committee is comprised of members on the frontlines of human trafficking responses who can best inform training modules. With the assistance of people in the fields of law enforcement, businesses, hospitals, transportation companies, health service providers, faith-based groups, social workers, civic groups, housing facilities, hotel and motel management, and more, the committee creates and disseminates culturally-relevant, field-specific, data-driven trainings that reflect the mission of the task force and shape the work of its members.

Activities include planning for training opportunities for each member, train-the-trainer events, and organizing training opportunities for new members attained through outreach activities. The committee works with the task force to determine guidelines for language used with the public and in a training capacity, common terminology and definitions, and descriptions for survivor/victim populations.

The Training and Evaluation Committee is also responsible for ensuring that New Orleans has adequate and accurate data on the prevalence of and response to human trafficking in our region. The committee uses the data to determine the success of the task force’s activities. The committee will undertake a region-wide community needs assessment focused on identifying available resources and potential gaps in resources. This information will be reported back to the general task force and used to improve a coordinated service referral network. The committee will also work with local, state, and federal agencies to collect and analyze data on how many victims/survivors are processed through both the criminal justice system and service provider network. This data will help the task force to better understand what is happening in our community and will inform the direction and goals of the task force.

On Tuesday, December 8th, LSU Health New Orleans leadership celebrated the grand opening of the LSU Health Dental & Primary Care Clinic. The clinic is the only one of its kind in the region where patients can receive care from both nurse practitioners and dental professionals at the same location. The clinic is funded by a federal grant to LSU Health New Orleans to bring primary care services to underserved areas. The clinic also provides a site where LSU Health New Orleans nursing, dental, and dental hygiene students and residents will work as an integrated health care team.

The clinic, located at 1111 Florida Avenue in New Orleans, is currently open Tuesdays through Thursdays from 8 am to 4 pm. To schedule an appointment, call 504-412-1488.

Dr. Marie Adorno was selected as a volunteer Item Writer for the National Council of State Boards of Nursing Licensure Examination, NCLEX®. Dr. Adorno was approved by the Louisiana State Board of Nursing and was selected to participate on the item development panel of subject matter experts that was held in Chicago in March. She was one of nine nurses from across the nation to be selected for this assignment and was nominated on the basis of clinical specialty and nursing expertise.
Primary Care Family Nurse Practitioner DNP students Aimee Castellon-Maestri and Britta Smith attended the AACN’s Student Policy Summit from March 20-22, 2016 in Washington, D.C. The summit was a three-day conference held at the Park Hyatt Washington. Participants were immersed in eight program sessions focused on the federal policy process and nursing’s role in professional advocacy. Keynote speaker, Rear Admiral (RADM) Sylvia Trent-Adams, PhD, RN, FAAN, Deputy Surgeon General, delivered a phenomenal and inspiring speech.

Our 2nd day on Capital Hill was the highlight of the trip as we lobbied for AACN and the entire nursing profession as we met with the offices of Louisiana Representatives Richmond, Fleming, Scalise, Boustany and the office of Louisiana Senator David Vitter. We requested $244 million for fiscal year 2017 in support of the Nursing Workforce Development Programs (Title VIII of the Public Health Service Act), which Britta & I both have received as graduate students.

We also requested support of the National Institute of Nursing Research with $157 million for fiscal year 2017 as this will allow more complex studies focusing on health promotion and disease prevention. Our last request was for our congressmen to co-sponsor the Improving Veterans Access to Quality Care Act by extending APRN’s full practice authority within the Veterans Health Administration, as they already provide when deployed in active duty from any three branches of the US Armed Services Nurse Corps, the Department of Defense, as well as within the Indian Health Service.

We would like to thank LSUHSC-Nursing for giving us the opportunity to attend this incredible conference, especially Dr. Porche and Dr. Jeanfreau! “Nurses need to be sitting at the table and not on the menu!!”
Congratulations to Our Graduates

Sigma Theta Tau Epsilon Nu members Dr. Julia Tipton, Angela Scanio, and Dr. Jane Sumner represented the LSUHSC chapter at the 43rd STTI Biennial Convention from November 7 - 11, 2015. The representatives accepted the Chapter Key Award on November 9th on behalf of Epsilon Nu. The STTI Key Award honors chapters that excel in activities such as:

• Membership recruitment and retention
• Publicity and programming
• Professional and leadership development
• Local, national, and international collaboration.

Congratulations to the December 2015 Sigma Theta Tau Honor Society Award recipients. The undergraduate award was presented to Lisa Rebenne and the graduate award was presented to Rebekka Amick.

Epsilon Nu would like to increase student involvement, community service, and fundraising efforts. Please email suggestions for philanthropic causes, community service opportunities, and fundraising ideas to either Dr. Julia Tipton at jtipto@lsuhsc.edu or Angela Scanio at ascani@lsuhsc.edu.

STTI encourages the advancement of nursing science and nursing leadership. Epsilon Nu offers many opportunities to share your time and talents and support nursing excellence. All members, including students, are invited to attend monthly chapter meetings which are held on Mondays from 3:00 pm to 4:00 pm in the School of Nursing Dean's Conference Room. The next meeting is on May 9th. For details or questions, email EpsilonNu@lsuhsc.edu.

Sophie Junak, Junior II BSN MUSES student, had her abstract accepted for a podium presentation at the 41st Annual Oncology Nursing Society Congress in San Antonio, Texas. Ms. Junak will present her abstract, The Effects of Chemotherapy on the Humoral Immune System in Survivors of Pediatric Hematological Malignancies: An Integrative Review, on Saturday, April 9th as part of the Late-Breaking Research Hot Topics session. Her abstract will also be published in the online congress issue of the Oncology Nursing Forum and on the congress website. Ms. Junak’s mentor in the MUSES program is Dr. Lorrie Powel.

Ms. Junak was also recently named as a recipient of an Oncology Nursing Society Foundation Bachelor’s Scholarship. The foundation provides scholarships to individuals who are interested in and committed to oncology nursing and pursuing a baccalaureate degree in nursing.

2015 LSNA Nightingale Awards

The LSNA Nightingale Award Gala was held in Baton Rouge on Saturday, March 5th. The School of Nursing was recognized as Nursing School of the Year for Graduate Degree Programs. The following faculty members were honored with individual awards.
October 13th’s Night Out Against Crime was a tremendous success for all involved. The students who attended met people from the community and the community enjoyed the benefits of having nursing, medical, and public health students and faculty members in their neighborhood. We took blood pressures, explained the BP values, demonstrated oral hygiene techniques, explained car seat safety, the importance of breast self-exam, and gave away band-aids, ice packs, pill holders, toothbrushes, floss, mouthwash, toothpaste, and cell phone holders all while listening to the St. Augustine High School band.

Thanks to all who made this work. Leslie Capo organized the event, secured the dental supplies for us, and made available an awesome school bus. Dr. Stephanie Pierce provided direction and supplies. Dr. Celestine Carter helped throughout the evening. ‘The students’ work was outstanding and greatly admired by the people of the neighborhood.

Students who participated include: Kristen Girault, Haylie Fanz, Amy Graves, Christine Carman, Reynecia Douglas, Madeline Hayes, Jenna Gendron, Katherine Myers, Paige Anderson, Ryne Smith, Claire O’Brien, Deepa Panchang, and Scott Lewis. Special thanks to Madeline Hayes who helped execute the blood pressure handout and Katelyn Freyou who gathered student volunteers. We rocked it!

-Marjorie B. Kraus, RN, MS, BC

SNA members Devin Robinson and Raven Omuemu with faculty member Quinn Lacey volunteered as first-aid providers at the Up2U sports event on January 18th during the Martin Luther King, Jr. celebration at St. Roch Park.

Senior I students volunteered at the USDA Health Fair with Dr. Stephanie Pierce and Dr. Catherine Carter.

Jasmyn Jackson, Mary Grace Manning, and Don Harris conducted BP screenings at the American Can Company Farmer’s Market on February 25th. Over 50 customers and vendors were screened.
Dr. Demetrius Porche has assumed the President-Elect position with the Southern Nursing Research Society (SNRS). The mission of the society is to advance nursing research through dissemination and utilization of research findings; facilitating the career development of nurses and nursing students as researchers; promoting the image of nursing as a scientific discipline; and enhancing communication among members.

The Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL) is an innovative nursing role that is a collaboration of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN), the American Organization of Nurse Executives (AONE), and the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA). The CNL is prepared at the master’s level and is a generalist that cultivates quality improvement and care coordination. After the Institute of Medicine’s (IOM) 1999 report on medical errors, To Err is Human: Building a Safer Health System, the CNL was created to implement evidence-based practice, collect and evaluate patient outcomes, assess cohort risks, and guide plans for care as indicated. The AACN’s (2013) fundamental aspects of CNL practice include:

• Clinical leadership for patient-care practices and delivery, including the design, coordination, and evaluation of care for individuals, families, groups, and populations;
• Participation in identification and collection of care outcomes;
• Accountability for evaluation and improvement of point-of-care outcomes, including the syntheses of data and other evidence to evaluate and achieve optimal outcomes;
• Risk anticipation for individuals and cohorts of patients;
• Lateral integration of care for individuals and cohorts of patients;
• Design and implementation of evidence-based practice(s);
• Team leadership, management, and collaboration with other health professional team members;
• Information management or the use of information systems and technologies to improve healthcare outcomes;
• Stewardship and leveraging of human, environmental, and material resources; and,
• Advocacy of patients, communities, and the health professional team.

The CNL program consists of 37 graduate credit hours leading to a Master of Science in Nursing (MSN). The curriculum consists of pathophysiology, clinical assessment, pharmacology, finance management, micro and macro systems, and healthcare systems leadership. Students will be prepared to assume care coordination for individuals and cohorts of patients to meet their care needs in this rapidly changing healthcare environment. Graduates of CNL programs are eligible to complete the Clinical Nurse Leader board certification offered by the Commission on Nurse Certification (CNC) as well as continuing their education in a practice- or research doctoral program.

For specific information regarding the Clinical Nurse Leader program, please contact Dr. Paula Kensler by email at pkensl@lsuhsc.edu.
SNA Partners with Delivering Hope NOLA

by Marirose Bernard, SNA Faculty Advisor

In 2015, the LSU Health New Orleans School of Nursing’s Student Nurses’ Association (SNA) partnered with Delivering Hope NOLA, a non-profit organization that was founded by mothers who had a pre-term baby in one of the NICUs in the New Orleans area. The mission of the organization is to provide hope and encouragement to families of babies under NICU and CCU care.

Our SNA, as well as SNAs from across the state of Louisiana, collected donations throughout 2015 and assembled goodie bags for NICU families. These bags consisted of items such as Teddy bears, premie clothes and hats, hand sanitizer, factory sealed pre-packaged snacks, bottled water, journals and pens, insulated totes for mothers to transport breast milk from home to the hospital, and other items.

On Saturday, December 19th, several SNA members and I had the pleasure of delivering these bags to the following NICUs: Children’s Hospital, Ochsner Baptist, East Jefferson Hospital, Tulane-Lakeside Hospital, Touro Infirmary, Ochsner Kenner Hospital, Ochsner Westbank Hospital, Ochsner Northshore Hospital, St. Tammany Hospital, Slidell Memorial Hospital, and West Jefferson Hospital. We were able to bring a little joy, hope, and encouragement to 200 families for Christmas!

Our partnership with Delivering Hope NOLA is an on-going effort. There is a bin outside of my office (room 150) for donations – feel free to donate at any time! Thank you to all of our SNA volunteers for your time and effort to such a great cause!

Adult-Gerontology Acute Care NP Concentration (AG-ACNP)

This program is in development and pending LSBN review and approval.
This concentration is projected to be ready for admission Fall 2016.

COMING SOON!!!! FALL 2016

The AG-ACNP concentration will be within the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) program. It is designed to prepare the NP to care for complex disease states the young adult (>13 years old), adult, or older adult may experience in specialty clinics, emergency, acute, or critical care settings.

All AG-ACNP students will take core AG-ACNP and DNP content with the option to further focus their training as a Hospitalist or Intensivist functioning within an interprofessional Hospital Medicine or Critical Care/Pulmonary Medicine team.

Other optional subspecialty areas to be provided via additional clinical experiences include a focus in:

- Cardiovascular—Stress testing, chest pain units, procedures
- Diabetes—acute and chronic management
- Critical Care—MICU, SICU, TICU, procedures
- Palliative care—end of life, hospice
- Urology—acute and chronic management
- Nephrology—acute and chronic management

Admission Criteria

- BSN degree with > 3.0 GPA
- Three references
- Minimal GRE score >300
- One year acute care/critical care experience within five years of application
- BLS & ACLS certification via American Heart Association
- Unencumbered RN license
- Interview Completion

COMING SOON!!!! FALL 2016

Students are prepared at the doctoral level as advanced practice nurses in the care of adults across the aging continuum, with expertise in the diagnosis and management of common acute illnesses, disease prevention, and management of stable chronic illnesses across the lifespan.

The curriculum emphasizes coursework, case study analysis, and clinical experiences. Students work with faculty members, nurse practitioners, and physician preceptors in a variety of primary care clinical practicum sites. The sites include: health maintenance organizations, community clinics, long-term care, assisted living, continuing care retirement communities, occupational health settings, and private practices throughout Louisiana.

Admission Criteria

- Application through NursingCAS
- BSN degree with min 3.0 GPA
- Three references
- Minimal GRE score 300 or higher
- BLS certification via American Heart Association
- Unencumbered RN license
- Interview

Optional subspecialty areas to be provided via additional clinical experiences with a focus in:

* Palliative care—end of life, hospice
* Advance-Practice Wound Care
