We have seen an increase in the number of students having issues with malware being detected on their computers. If you receive the following message or one similar to it from our Information Technology Department, you are expected to respond immediately. This is a serious issue and not one that can be taken care of at your leisure. Chancellor’s Memorandum 42 states that all users of the System IT infrastructure are expected to exhibit responsible behavior and shall actively participate and cooperate with the Office of Computer Services in the protection of the System IT infrastructure against threats. If you do not respond you are subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

Dear Student:

Malware has been detected on your computer. Please do not connect to the LSUHSC network. You must send an email to NSComputerSupport@lsuhsc.edu immediately to schedule a time you can meet with one of us to resolve this issue. When you come to that meeting, please bring any devices (cell phone, laptops, iPads, etc.) you use on campus with you. We will need to determine which device address matches the reported incident. We will check your computers for updated anti-virus and anti-malware software. We will also check that the operating system is updated. You may check them yourself and scan before you meet with us.

Please respond immediately.
Dr. Deborah Garbee and Ms. Mary Marix have compiled the following Library resource guide for students searching by title. Please see below.

Ms. Mary Marix sent an additional search method using Innopac: Keyword search type in nurs* and electronic and license just like that and you will retrieve the 455 electronic nursing books that we have.

From Library homepage, click on INNOPAC

Search by the title or author, click submit:
Click on book title:

You then get a page with every edition of the book. Click on the most recent edition:
The next page tells you if the book is available electronically. In this case click on Stat!Ref

Stat!Ref will look like the page below. Use the left side tool bar to look for your medication alphabetically.
Alternatively, you can search Stat!Ref in this manner. Click on Resources from the main Library page:

Next, click on Stat!Ref
Click on your location, on campus or off campus

The homepage for Stat!Ref includes a listing of all available texts in the left toolbar or you can search.
Further down the page, bottom right is a link to podcasts for NCLEX RN review.
LOCUS NEWS

On behalf of the LGBT+ Ally Organization for Cultural Understanding in the sciences (LOCUS) I invite all of you to come out and participate in this community event.

In partnership with the Office of the Associate Vice-Chancellor of Academic and Multicultural Affairs, LOCUS (LGBT+ Ally Organization for Cultural Understanding in the Sciences) is gathering students, faculty and staff of the Health Sciences Center to go out and support the Red Umbrella Second Line for New Orleans HIV/AIDS Awareness and Prevention Day on Saturday March 9th in Congo Square. The Second Line starts at 11am in Congo Square and will also finish there. In addition to the second line, there will be a Health and Wellness Fair in Congo Square from 9am to 2pm. The LSU Department of Emergency Medicine will have a booth at the fair providing information about HIV Prevention as well as the care and counseling that is offered by LSU for the community.

Some pertinent data on HIV/AIDS:

• February 7th is National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day.
• In 2009, there were 3,827 children living with AIDS in the US. 95% of those children were infected through perinatal transmission (mother to child). 63% of those children were African American. 12% were Caucasian.
• In Louisiana, 171 infants were born to HIV infected mothers in 2010. 88% of these children were African American.
• In the past 5 years, 81% of ALL perinatally infected infants were African American.
• 60% of all new HIV diagnoses in Louisiana are among African Americans in the New Orleans and Baton Rouge areas.
• In 2012, there were 11,160 individuals living with HIV infection in the New Orleans and Baton Rouge areas. 72% of these individuals were African American.

As you can see this is a significant scourge on the African American population in New Orleans, Louisiana and the U.S. As healthcare providers it is our responsibility to help in the struggle to overcome this disease.

We invite you to join us for the fair and for the Red Umbrella Second Line at 11am on Saturday March 9th, to help raise awareness and to demonstrate LSU Health’s support of the African American community in New Orleans and our continuing dedication to HIV Awareness, Prevention and Treatment. We very much hope you will attend. There is no cost for this event.

UPCOMING SNA EVENTS

Saturday, March 2nd City Park Super Saturday - 9 a.m. - 12 p.m.
On March 2nd we will be participating in City Park Super Saturday. Through this program, we will be pruning, raking, cutting grass, mulching, and planting trees and flowers to make the City Park space more enjoyable to members of our community. We are really excited about this event because we will be working with the nursing students of Our Lady of Holy Cross College.

Edible School Yard Clean up, Saturday, March 16th – 10 a.m. – 1 p.m.
March 16th, we are working with Edible Schoolyard NOLA on their Edible School yard clean up. We will be working at S.J. Green Charter School in the community doing gardening, composting, harvesting and spending lunch with the children and teachers. These edible gardens help the kids learn how to grow their own food and it also helps teach them about healthy eating.

Habit at for Humanity, Saturday, March 23rd and April 20th – 7:45 – 4pm
On March 23rd and April 20th, we will be working with Habitat for Humanity to rebuild houses in the Greater New Orleans area. We will build simple, decent, affordable homes in partnership with families in need.

March Donations – Ronald McDonald House
We will be collecting donations for the Ronald McDonald house. Families travel from miles for their children to receive specialized care from hospitals and doctors here in New Orleans. Ronald McDonald House offers the families a place to stay while also providing support during the hospital visit. We are collecting paper products, and snacks for the house. (Paper plates, paper towels, plastic utensils, cake and cookie mix, individually wrapped snacks).
